FOR SALE!

I have on my hands a farm from my brother's estate and wish to close it out at a reasonable price, both from the standpoint of myself and the purchaser. The farm lies in the town of Charleston, and contains 75 acres of fine land. It is known as the Gay farm, and is known to be one of the best farms in this county and a team. The tillage is in good shape and the pasture is well watered. There is a sugar orchard of 200 trees on the farm and there is also two apple orchards. There are two sets of buildings on this farm which could be divided into two farms if desired, but can be easily carried on as one. One set of buildings contains a new 45x100 foot barn with silo. The farm contains considerable wood and lumber. Telephone in house and R. F. D. of mail, village and railroad station in easy reach. Farm will be sold separate or with stock and tools, and on reasonable terms. If you are interested, call on or write, C. E. GAY, Barton Landing, Vt.

IN HUB MARKETS

Quotations on the Leading Products in Demand

Boston, May 3.—Butter is steady in price and demand. Choice northern creamery, 23@24c; western, 22½@23½c; Vermont dairy, 19@21c.

Cheese is steady. York state, 14@14½c; Vermont twins, 13½@14c.

Eggs are firm. Choice henner and nearby, 21@22c; eastern, 20@21c; western, 19@20c.

The warm weather has not only stimulated the demand in the local fruit and vegetable market, but it has caused larger arrivals of seasonable products. Prices in some instances are high, but the general level is not above that of former years at this time.

Apples have been slow. Fancy lots have a fair sale at well-sustained prices, but there is hardly any call for common stock and they have to be worked off pretty cheap. The lower grades of Baldwins are down about 25c a barrel. Ben Davis are now offered at $3.75@4 a barrel, as against $4@4.50 a week ago.

Strawberries are arriving very freely, and although not of extra good quality, they have sold very well. About the last of the Florida berries have been received for this season.

Potatoes have dropped under heavy arrivals and a rather dull demand. Most of the offerings from Maine are Green mountains, and they bring no more than Hebrons or roses. Canadian stock has begun to come. Quotations are 80c for Chile and 75@80c for Bliss. Sweets are fairly plenty, in light demand, and prices favor the buyer. All kinds of green garden truck are plenty and cheaper, though in lively request. Lettuce is higher, and domestic onions are going at better prices. There is more call for Egyptian onions. Rhubarb, both native and western, is considerably lower. Cucumbers are steady and turnips do not change much. Squashes are higher, and celery holds very firm. Fancy tomatoes are scarce and high. The offerings of peas include very few that are good for anything. Radishes are higher.

Apples—Baldwins, fancy, $4.50@5 a barrel; No. 2, $3@3.50; russets, No. 1 Roxbury, $4@5; No. 2, $3@3.50; Ben Davis, $3.75@4; northern spies, $4.50@5.50.

Strawberries—Florida, 20@25c a quart; North Carolina, 16@20c.

Potatoes—Aroostook Green mountains, $5@5.8c a bushel; Hebrons, $5@5.8c; rose, $5@5.8c; Canadian Bliss, 75@80c; Chile, 80c; sweets, Vinelands, $1 a basket.

Beans—Southern string beans, $2.50 @3 a crate; butter beans, $3.50 a crate.

Cabbages—New southern, $2.50 a crate.

Celery—California, $2 a dozen bunches.

Cucumbers—Hothouse, No. 1, $5@6 a box; No. 2, $3@4.

Greens—Spinach, $1.50 a barrel; kale, 65@75c a barrel; beet greens, 50@75c a bushel; dandelions, 35@50c a bushel.

Lettuce, etc.—Lettuce, 50@90c a dozen heads; romaine, 75c a dozen heads; parsley, $2 a bushel; watercress, native, $1 a dozen bunches; southern, 50c a dozen bunches; mint, 60c a dozen bunches.

Onions—Domestic, 75@85c a bushel; Bermudas, $2 a crate; Egyptians, $3 a two-bushel bag; leeks, $1 a dozen bunches.

Squashes—Western Hubbard, $70 a ton.

Tomatoes—Native hothouse, 30c a pound; southern, $3.50@4.50 a crate.

Turnips—Yellow, $2 a barrel; French white, $2.50 a bag; white egg and purple tops, 50c@1 a bushel.

Miscellaneous—Carrots, $1@1.25 a bushel; parsnips, 75c@1 a bushel; radishes, $2@2.25 a box; beets, 75c a bushel; bunch beets, $1.50@1.75 a dozen bunches; peppers, $2.50 a crate; eggplants, $1 a crate; oyster plants, $1 a dozen bunches; okra, $2.25 a crate; mushrooms, $2@3 a basket; artichokes, $1.50 a bushel; rhubarb, native hothouse, 6c a pound; California, $1.25 a case; asparagus, California, $4@7 a dozen bunches; South Carolina, $4@7; peas, southern $2.50@3 a basket.

Pork provisions are somewhat irregular, but the market is generally firmer.

Fresh beef is quiet but steady. Extra heavy sides, 7½@7.4c; good, 7@7.4c; light, 6½@7c; heavy hams, 9½@9.3c; good, 9@9.1c; light, 8½@9c; heavy fore, 5½@5.3c; good, 5.1c@5.4c; light, 5@5½c.

Lambs are steady; yearlings are quiet; veals are firm. Spring lambs, 10@11c; fall lambs, 9@10c; yearlings, 7@9c; muttons, 7@8c; veals, 11@12½c.

The market for poultry is quiet but steady. Western frozen turkeys, 19@20c; native roasted chickens, 22@24c; large frozen western chickens, 15@16c; medium frozen chickens, 12@14c; northern fowls, 15@15½c; western fowls, 13@14c; western capons, 16@18c; native broilers, 1-lb, 80c@1 per pair; 2-lb, 35@38c per pound.

Hay is firm; straw is quiet and easy; millfeed is firm and unchanged. Hay No. 1, $17.50@18.50; low grades, $13.50@15; rye straw, prime, $14; oat straw, $8.50@9.50; sack spring bran, $22.50@23.

The Chicago wheat market has been very steady. The later months have shown more strength relatively than May, the immediate cause being the bullish crop news from the winter wheat section. These reports were received with some incredulity, but had some effect in raising prices. Spring wheat conditions have been uniformly favorable, and the seedling is going on so well that some dices report that 90 percent would be completed by May 1.

The Minneapolis new mills increased their output last week by 15,575 barrels, the total reported for the week by the Northwestern Milling being 277,330 barrels, against 182,200 barrels in 1905.

BOYS AND GIRLS.

WHAT A HORSE WOULD SAY.

Please to take off these close-fitting blinders and give me a chance to use my eyes like other folks. And then, here's this check-rein. It pulls my head away up in the air. It hurts my mouth. It sometimes gives me a throat disease. I can't see the road so well and am more likely to stumble. I can't draw nearly so much as I could with my head down, and I can't draw so easily. A tight check-rein puts me in constant pain. Please to kindly take off this check-rein, or lengthen it out so that I can put my head down where I want to when I am going up hill.

And then we get old and feeble just as men do, and the older we grow, if we have worked faithfully, the more kindly we ought to be treated, and it isn't right when we have given you a lifetime of faithful service to sell us off in our old age for a small sum into the hands of hard masters.

Two men or boys the same size can't always do the same work—nor can two horses.

We ought to have shade in summer, warm stables and blankets in winter.

Our stomachs are small and we ought to be fed and watered often. And then, there's this matter of overloading.

If I generally draw kindly, but some day give out and stop, and tell you as plainly as I can that you have put on too much load, it isn't right to go to beating and swearing at me.

It is much kinder and better to talk kindly and throw off part of the load or get another horse, or if the wheel is in a hole, ask the people near to take hold and push.

We horses can't tell our feelings as you can. Sometimes we are dizzy—sometimes sick.

Sometimes the hostler drives us half the night and then turns us out for a day's work next morning.

Sometimes he don't get up in time to give us our breakfast—sometimes he forgets to water us.

We are glad of a slice of bread, a piece of apple, and a dipper of water.

Always feed us from the palm of your hand so that we may not bite your fingers.

When you put us up in a strange stable never trust the hostler to give us the oats, but go out and see that he does it, and stand by us while we eat them, and see that he don't forget to water us.

Never put the bits into our mouths in cold weather until you have first warmed them, so that they won't take the skin off our tongues and make it painful to eat. You wouldn't like to have frosty iron bits put in your mouth on a cold day.

Always warm our bits in cold weather, and when from old age we can't chew, please take us to a horse doctor and have our teeth filed so that we can.

When you find our blankets blown off on a cold day please put them on again and tuck them under the harness.

Don't keep twitching the reins when you drive us. You wouldn't like to have anybody twitching the reins all the time if the bit were in your mouth.

Don't over-drive us, and then on the other hand don't let us stand in the stable all day without exercise.

Horses and dogs need exercise every day, and can't be well without it. You wouldn't like to be tied up in a stall all day and not permitted to go out.

Please to make it a rule that you will never ride in a carriage drawn by a horse with mutilated tail or a poor looking horse, when you can possibly help it, and always look at the check-rein. Always select the carriage that has the best looking horses, and tell the drivers why you do it.

Then when we get run down we should like to be sent off into the country to take a vacation and pick up.

If all boys and girls, every time they see a poor, miserable-looking horse, would simply say so the driver could hear them four words, "I pity that horse," it would be a great benefit to us.

But above all things, kindly remember that you can do us a world of good by simply talking to us kindly—telling us we are good fellows, and all that.

All we horses and dogs and birds and all dumb animals know the tones of your voices, and we like to be talked to kindly just as well as you do.

You can make us very happy by only talking to us kindly.

And when it becomes necessary that we should die, don't let anybody try to kill us that don't know how, but send to our society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, that employs skillful men to kill horses and dogs and cats humanely, and let them send a man to kill us more fully without foreknowledge and without pain.

Mrs. Nuwed—Here's the bread I started to make today. Isn't it too annoying? Mr. Nuwed—Why, it isn't baked at all. Mrs. Nuwed—I know it isn't; that's just it. I put plenty of baking powder in it, but it doesn't seem to have worked. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Knew Her Ways.

Mr. Gayboy—What did my wife say when you told her I wouldn't be able to come home tonight until a late hour? Messenger—She didn't say anything. Mr. Gayboy—Then you must have gone to the wrong house! —Chicago Tribune.

Have you weakness of any kind—stomach, back, or any organs of the body? Don't doze yourself with ordinary medicine. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the supreme curative power. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

A Doubting Thomas.

She—Did you let father know you owned a lot of house property? He—I hinted at it. She—What did he say? He—He said, "Deeds speak louder than words."
